Period for Reply -- The MAILING DATE of this communication appears on the cover sheet with the correspondence address --

A SHORTENED STATUTORY PERIOD FOR REPLY IS SET TO EXPIRE 3 MONTH(S) OR THIRTY (30) DAYS, WHICHEVER IS LONGER, FROM THE MAILING DATE OF THIS COMMUNICATION.

- Extensions of time may be available under the provisions of 37 CFR 1.136(a). In no event, however, may a reply be timely filed after SIX (6) MONTHS from the mailing date of this communication.
- If NO period for reply is specified above, the maximum statutory period will apply and will expire SIX (6) MONTHS from the mailing date of this communication.
- Failure to reply within the set or extended period for reply will, by statute, cause the application to become ABANDONED (35 U.S.C. § 133). Any reply received by the Office later than three months after the mailing date of this communication, even if timely filed, may reduce any earned patent term adjustment. See 37 CFR 1.704(b).

DETAILED ACTION

Information Disclosure Statement

The information disclosure statement (IDS) submitted on 12/18/2003, 01/12/2004, 05/13/2004, 03/27/2007 was filed in compliance with the provisions of 37 CFR 1.97. Accordingly, the information disclosure statement is being considered by the examiner.

Status of Claims

Claims 1-18 and 31-37 are pending in this application. Claims 1, 31 and 35-37 have been amended.

Response to Arguments

Applicant's arguments filed 08/06/2008 have been fully considered but they are not persuasive. With regard to the 103 rejection of claims 1, 31, 32, 35-37 and their dependents the applicant argues that the prior art does not specifically disclose a dual card account maintained on a second processing platform. The applicant's disclosure clearly teaches that a number of different processing platforms are available for private label cards and for bankcards, notably CARDPAC and VisionPLUS. The examiner asserts that it would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art at the time of the invention that the upgrade of accounts disclosed by Fargo from Household Bank to Capital One Bank may incorporate the use of a different platform depending upon the particular bank and the supplier or type of platform preferred by that bank. This argument is not one of inherency but of obviousness. This obviousness argument also holds true for the applicants' assertion that creating a dual card account with a zero balance is not disclosed. The prior art clearly discloses the creation of a dual card account with a zero balance. Additionally, the examiner asserts that one of ordinary skill in the art would find it obvious to create a credit account with a zero balance as there are limited options when creating or transferring an account. The account can either be created with a balance transferred from another account or with a zero balance. The applicant also argues that the prior art does not disclose transferring monetary data with private label account to second processing platform for dual card account. This limitation was previously addressed in the rejection of claim 7 which depends from claim 1.

A review of the claims and updated search necessitated the rejections below.

Conclusion

THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the mailing date of this final action.
